November 2022

YOUTH
2030

A thank you note from the UN Secretary-General's Envoy on Youth

The contributions of young people – as leaders, changemakers, and voices of progress – are vital to accelerating innovative solutions during the Decade of Action to deliver the Sustainable Development Goals by 2030. Recognizing that young people have a pivotal role to play in achieving sustainable, inclusive and peaceful societies worldwide, Youth2030, the United Nations system-wide Youth Strategy, was launched in 2018 to transform the Organization's work for and with youth. The implementation of Youth2030 continues to gain momentum, with 51 UN entities and 130 UN Country Teams (UNCTs) advancing the strategy.

I am pleased to present the Youth2030 Scorecard for UN Entities, a tool for strategic planning, performance measurement, and accountability for action by UN Entities. The Scorecard is guided by the principles of meaningful youth engagement and is line with its twin, the Youth2030 Scorecard for UN Country Teams. It was conceptualized by the Youth2030 Joint Working Group, a technical leadership group consisting of representatives from both UN entities and youth networks. I would like to sincerely thank the members of the Joint Working Group for their leading role in developing this Scorecard.

I would also like to acknowledge the tireless efforts of the Youth2030 Secretariat within my Office. Under the leadership of Dr. Sudha Balakrishnan, the team has been involved in this process from design to delivery, ensuring that ownership over the Scorecard is shared between all participating UN entities and youth networks. My gratitude also goes to Anca Gliga, Angga Dwi Martha, Henrik Dale, Hillary Bakrie, and Maanishaa Jessani for their valuable contributions to this work.

I have been deeply grateful for the leadership of the Assistant Secretary-Generals in the High-level Steering Committee of Youth2030, whose strategic guidance, encouragement, and steadfast support have been central to achieving this crucial milestone.

Through this Scorecard, I look forward to further strengthening the implementation of Youth2030 across the UN system, so that we can live up to our joint commitments, working together and in solidarity with the world's young people, to deliver a better future for all generations.

1. Integrated guidance

1.1 Background

Youth2030, the United Nations system-wide Youth Strategy was launched in 2018 to transform the organization's work FOR and WITH youth. Four years on, the strategy has seen significant expansion with 51 UN entities and 130 UN Country Teams participating in its implementation. The entities and country teams are accelerating work across five priority and four foundational areas of the strategy, as evident from their annual reports on implementation. Under the strategic guidance of the High Level Steering Committee, ably supported by the technical leadership of the Joint Working Group with its Task Teams and seamlessly coordinated by the Youth2030 Secretariat, foundations for UN-wide implementation of the strategy are in place: scorecards for performance measurement and accountability have been developed; baselines for implementation have been established; routine reporting of the UN system on the implementation of the strategy has been institutionalized; Youth2030 indicators have been integrated into the Quadrennial Comprehensive Policy Review monitoring framework 2021-24; several knowledge products and analytical reports have been produced to support the implementation of the strategy; and two Youth2030 annual progress reports have been launched, outlining progress, gaps and recommendations for implementation. Critical system-wide issues like tracking investments on youth, internships in the UN and working FOR and WITH young people with disabilities are starting to be addressed.

1.2 Overview and development

The Youth2030 Scorecard for UN Entities is a strategic planning, performance measurement and accountability tool structured to understand the performance of UN entities on the foundational and priority areas set out in Youth2030. The Scorecard captures the work of UN entities FOR and WITH youth, in line with the principles of meaningful youth engagement.

The Scorecard was conceptualized and developed from June to December 2021 by members of the inter-agency Joint Working Group,¹ under the strategic guidance of the High-level Steering Committee,² with overall coordination by the Youth2030 Secretariat. Based on causality and change analyses, a simple chain of results was developed, and outputs were detailed. Sections of the Scorecard were built from the 'outputs', with the clear understanding that all sections are interconnected. Key performance indicators (KPIs) and the scoring methodology for different sections of the Scorecard were developed, in line with the methodology used in the Youth2030 Scorecard for UNCTs.

Based on the lessons learned from the first reporting exercise in January- February 2022, in which 40 UN entities participated, the Joint Working Group finalized the Youth2030 Scorecard for UN Entities in November 2022.

While the Scorecard is an important performance measurement and accountability tool, it is not intended to capture all elements of Youth2030 implementation. Additional mechanisms (for example, surveys, secondary data analyses, assessments on specific areas of work etc.) will be deployed from time to time to understand other areas/elements of the strategy as well as the contribution of Youth2030 in realizing the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and other global commitments on youth. Core programming insights are beyond the scope of the tool.

¹ The Joint Working Group, which provides technical leadership on Youth2030 implementation, is composed of representatives of UN entities (DCO, DESA, DMSPC, DPPA, ILO, IOM, OHCHR, OSGEY, UNAIDS, UNDP, UNESCO, UNFPA, UNICEF, UNIDO, UNODC, UN-Women and WHO) and youth networks (including ICMYO, MGCY) and Young UN.

² Chaired by the Secretary-General's Envoy on Youth and composed of 15 UN entities represented at the Assistant Secretary-General level, 2 youth networks (ICMYO and MGCY) and Young UN.

1.3 Structure and key features

Structure:

The Scorecard is organized in five parts, as shown in the figure below:

- integrated guidance, which sets out the outline and use of the Scorecard
- indicator scoring matrix, detailing the indicators (Key Performance Indicators or KPIs) and the scoring matrix
- overview of the Youth2030 Entities Scorecard Reporting System (ESRS), the platform for UN entities to report against the Scorecard
- annexes and
- references.

Indicator scoring matrix: The indicator scoring matrix consists of the Key Performance Indicators and the scoring matrix.

- Key Performance Indicators (KPIs):
 - The indicator scoring matrix includes a total of 18 KPIs, organized in five sections.
 - The KPIs are classified as “required” and “optional”, based on the reporting requirement for UN entities:
 - Required KPIs are drawn from the foundational areas of Youth2030; all UN entities are expected to report on these KPIs.
 - Optional KPIs are related on an entity’s mandate and geographical presence; UN entities have the flexibility to select these KPIs for reporting.
- Scoring matrix: The scoring matrix for the 18 KPIs includes 36 rated questions (yielding 36 scores) and 6 non-rated questions (yielding qualitative insights).
 - Rated questions: The scoring system for the 36 rated questions includes two components: i) Types of scoring and ii) Thresholds for performance.
 - Types of scoring: Three (3) types of scoring are available:
 1. Criteria-based
 2. Proportion-based
 3. Descriptive
 - Thresholds for performance: For each type of scoring, performance ratings are generated on a three-point RYG (Red-Yellow-Green) scale:
 - At milestone; ● Moving forward; and ● Getting ready
 - All UN entities should aim to achieve a ● (At milestone) rating for ≥80% of the KPIs applicable to them by 2024.
 - Non-rated questions: To complement the 36 rated questions, the scoring matrix includes 6 non-rated questions, providing opportunity for entities to include qualitative information, highlighting their work on youth (examples, good practices) and to hyperlink documents and resources.
- In all, the required KPIs include a total of 16 rated questions and 2 non-rated questions, while the optional KPIs include 20 rated questions and 4 non-rated questions (see figure below).
- Details of sections, KPIs (Required, Optional) and the number of rated and non-rated questions are presented in the table below.
- For ease of use, both rated and non-rated questions are referred to as “KPIs” in the Indicator Scoring Matrix in Chapter 2.

Key features: Flexible reporting requirements for some questions and capability to capture insights beyond standard ratings in KPIs are the key features of this Scorecard.

1.4 Use of the Scorecard

The Scorecard is a useful tool for UN entities during the development of their strategic plans, specific youth strategies, other policy / strategy documents and while designing specific programmes or initiatives FOR and WITH youth.

It is expected that the routine use of the Scorecard by UN entities will allow for the identification of gaps and contribute to systemic improvements in programming FOR and WITH young people.

3. Youth2030 Entities Scorecard Reporting System

3.1 Overview of the Youth2030 Entities Scorecard Reporting System (ESRS) and annual reporting

UN entities are encouraged to report annually on their work on youth through a secure online platform, the Youth 2030 Entities Scorecard Reporting System (ESRS). The platform is hosted on the SharePoint site of the UN Secretariat. Reporting in the ESRS is based on the KPIs in the Youth2030 Scorecard for UN Entities.

For reporting in the ESRS, each entity will need to identify focal points for two critical roles: contributor and reviewer. Their roles are as follows:

1. Contributor(s):
 - a. Coordinates and collects information on KPIs from various departments/ levels of the entity and inputs data in the ESRS
 - b. Each entity can nominate 1 to 2 contributor(s).
2. Reviewer:
 - a. Reviews inputs in the ESRS, finalizes the entity's responses and submits the report. The reviewer will also have editing rights in the ESRS.
 - b. Each entity can nominate 1 reviewer, with a cross-functional role in the entity, preferably at the director level.

The step-by-step process for reporting in the ESRS is outlined below:

1. Each entity nominates contributor(s) and reviewer to the Youth2030 Secretariat.
2. Youth2030 Secretariat provides access to the ESRS for the contributor(s) and the reviewer.
3. In ESRS, each entity selects the KPIs (required and optional) that are applicable to the organization.
4. The contributor(s) collect data from different parts/ levels of the entity and input in the ESRS.
5. The reviewer in each entity reviews and submits the report online to the Youth2030 Secretariat.
6. Youth2030 Secretariat reviews and accepts submission.

When an entity records its inputs in the ESRS, draft ratings for the indicators are generated. A summary of their KPI-wise inputs (in excel/ csv) and draft ratings (pdf) can be downloaded and printed during the session. Final ratings will be available when the entity's report is accepted by the Youth2030 Secretariat.

Data and insights from the annual reporting of entities will be:

- Featured in Youth2030 Progress Report published every year and launched in a high-level event at the United Nations. Data from the first reporting in 2021 represents the Youth2030 baseline for UN entities and is included in Youth2030: Progress Report 2022.
- Used for reporting against the Quadrennial Comprehensive Policy Review (QCPR) 2020 and its monitoring framework (2021-2024).
- Accessible to the public in the dashboard hosted on the website of the Office of the Secretary-General's Envoy on Youth.

3.2 Tools for reporting in ESRS

The ESRS has been designed to allow UN entities to reflect their contributions to Youth2030, flexibly, based on their areas of work. The ESRS includes additional tools to support selection of KPIs and offline data collection, as needed.

Tool 1: UN entity mandate and work on youth

Entities can enter information on their mandates and geographical presence in this tool. Based on the information entered, entities can determine which KPIs are relevant to their work by using Tool 2: KPI selection overview. A short overview of the questions covered by this tool is included below; the complete 'Entity mandate and work on youth' table is included as part of Annex 1 (available in Microsoft Word and Excel formats).

- What is the mandate of the entity?
- What areas of the UN work is the entity mandated to support?
- What age groups are relevant to the entity's work on youth?
- What actions/ functions on youth does the entity support?
- Which of the Youth2030 Priority Areas are in line with the entity's mandate?
- What actions does the entity support on youth engagement, participation, and advocacy?
- What is the geographical presence of the entity?
- What parts of the entity (HQ/non-HQ) were consulted/provided inputs for the reporting?

Tool 2: KPI selection overview

As detailed in the integrated guidance, all entities are expected to report on the required KPIs (covering the foundational areas of the strategy). The KPIs encompassing primarily the priority areas of the strategy are optional, and entities can choose to report on them in line with their mandates. Tool 2: KPI selection overview, included in Annex 1, outlines how this flexibility is incorporated into the Scorecard. The tool is available in both Microsoft Word and Excel formats.

In the ESRS, KPIs and scores are marked either "required" or "optional," whether they are "rated" or "non-rated." For all optional KPIs, entities can select whether the indicator applies to them. It is not possible to select "not applicable (N/A)" for required KPIs. The optional KPIs that are not selected by the entity will be marked Grey/Not applicable in the scoring.

Tool 3: Offline data collection tool within UN entity

Offline versions of the Scorecard are available to assist UN entities with their internal data collection. Once entities have selected which KPIs they will report on, the offline version (Word or Excel) can be circulated internally with relevant departments/sections (for example, finance, advocacy and communications, human resources, programmes) for inputs. Final inputs in the offline tool should be transferred to the ESRS.

Additional support for reporting in ESRS is available from the Youth2030 Secretariat at youth2030@un.org.

For the purpose of this document, the following description is used: an internship is a form of work-based learning. Work-based learning includes apprenticeship and other more formal training programmes, as well as internships and other forms of work experience. Working definition (ILO): "an internship is an arrangement for the performance of work within a business or organization, a primary purpose of which is to gain experience, skills and/or contacts that will assist the worker to gain employment or other work opportunities in the future, but which does not seek in a structured way to provide all the skills needed for a particular occupation". Currently no agreed upon definitions of fairness and quality of internships. Annex 3 - Principles of meaningful youth engagement

Principles of meaningful youth engagement	Description	Youth2030 Scorecard for UN Entities criteria
Institutionally mandated	In the context of the UN, the imperative to engage in any initiative/avenue should be formally enshrined as a requirement in its rules of procedure or modalities through wording that makes it clear that “youth” in the conversation have an equal say in any decision. This is critical to prevent an ad hoc approach and/or be entirely dependent on the prerogative of the engaging party.* *Major Group for Children and Youth — General Principles and Barriers for Meaningful Youth Engagement at the United Nations	1. Institutionally mandated: UN entity official guidance or policy (or equivalent) on commitment to meaningful youth engagement available, recognizing the agency of youth
Rights-based and safe	Young people are informed and educated about their rights and empowered to hold duty bearers accountable for respecting, protecting, and fulfilling these rights. All adults and those in positions of authority working directly or indirectly with young people in relation to issues at every level have a responsibility to take every reasonable precaution to minimize the risk of violence, exploitation, tokenism or any other negative consequence of young people's participation.* *Global Consensus Statement — Meaningful Adolescent and Youth Engagement	2. Rights-based and safe: Policy on protection of rights of young people who are engaged available
Designated	Young people should not be made to compete with other stakeholders, parties or groups for space in the modalities and process of engagement. Specific designated/reserved seats are to be made available in mechanisms through which they engage.* *Major Group for Children and Youth — General Principles and Barriers for Meaningful Youth Engagement at the United Nations	3. Designated: Entity-mandated youth advisory councils/boards or equivalent available to feed into decision-making processes of the entity at the global-regional (gender-balanced, representation from diverse constituencies)
Resourced	Engagement is a right, and young people should not have to spend out of pocket for the realization of this right. Arranging the budget for the engagement of young people should be the obligation of the engaging entity/entities.* *Major Group for Children and Youth — General Principles and Barriers for Meaningful Youth Engagement at the United Nations	4. Resourced: Earmarked funding available to support participation of youth in meetings of advisory councils/boards or equivalent and/or meetings on UN programmes/initiatives
Transparent, accessible and voluntary	Young people are provided with full, evidence-based, accessible, age-appropriate information which acknowledges their diversity of experience and promotes and protects their right to express their views freely. There is a clear and mutual understanding of how young people's information, skills and knowledge will be shared, with whom and for what purpose. Young people must not be coerced into participating in actions or expressing views that are against their beliefs and wishes and must be aware at all times that they can cease involvement in any process at any stage.* *Global Consensus Statement — Meaningful Adolescent and Youth Engagement	5. Transparent, accessible and voluntary: Selection and appointment of youth networks to the advisory council/board or equivalent based on open call/request for expression of interest, available in local languages and accessible to young people with disabilities
